New York, Sept. 15.—Inspector Faure, who on Sunday arrested Father Hans Schmidt, who later confessed to having murdered Anna Aumuller and cutting her body up and casting it piece by piece into the Hudson river, early this morning arrived at police headquarters, having in custody Dr. E. Muret, a dentist, of 307 St. Nicholas avenue, and his housekeeper, Bertha Zeck.

Dr. Muret is being held on a technical charge of counterfeiting and the woman as a material witness.

It is alleged that under the name of George Miller Muret hired an apartment in West 134th street and that in this apartment were found plates and presses and portions of partially destroyed proofs of $20 gold certificates.

The detectives allege that they also found in Schmidt's room at the rectory a plate from which counterfeit money had been struck.

Dr. Muret was arrested at his home in the vicinity of 125th street, near St. Joseph's church. The dentist seemed unconcerned. He is 31 years old, was born in Chicago, but went to Europe as a boy and studied in the public schools of Berlin. He graduated from a dental college there in 1902-03 and came to New York in the latter year. The police say Father Schmidt often was seen in the apartments in West 134th street with Dr. Muret. The agent of the flat also is said to have identified Muret as having been in the apartment with Father Schmidt.

Inspector Faure said he wanted it understood that Father Schmidt had made no confession implicating Muret. In the Broadhurst avenue apartment, where the murder of Anna Aumuller took place, the inspector continued, was found a receipt which led to the arrest of Dr. Muret, who, they say, also was known as "John Miller."

The dentist said he first met Schmidt when the priest visited him to have dental work done, and it is alleged by the police that Muret told Inspector Faure that Schmidt first broached the subject of counterfeiting.

"Does Muret or Miller admit knowing the Aumuller girl?" the newspaper men asked Inspector Faure.

"Yes," was the reply.

Schmidt Sleeps.

In his cell in the Tombs, with his coat as a pillow, Schmidt slept soundly through the night and arose this morning to eat a hearty breakfast. He had little to add to his alleged confession of last night in which he was said to have told the police that he had killed his victim as she lay in bed, cut up her body in the bath tub of the apartment where she had established herself, wrapped it in five bundles and dropped the bundles in the Hudson river. To L. J. Evers, the Tombs chaplain, Schmidt was said to have declared:

With a view to clearing the mystery surrounding the murder of 8-year-old Alma Kellner, whose mutilated body was found in quicklime in the basement of St. John's cathedral, Louisville, Ky., two and one-half years ago, the police sought today to obtain from Schmidt some statement of what he might know of this crime.

From August, 1909, till March, 1910, Schmidt was a visitor in Louisville, not officially connected with any church there, but a guest in the home of Rev. Henry B. Westermann, rector.

DISPOSING OF TARIFF KNOTS

CONFEREES FROM HOUSE AND SENATE GET THROUGH PAPER AND WOOL

CHANGE ON WOOLEN BLANKETS

Compromise on Yarns—Changes in Stockings—Thomas Makes Speech in Defense.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Most of the knotty problems in the wool and paper schedules were disposed of today by the house and senate conferees on the democratic tariff bill and a good start was made on the sundries schedule.

One of the important agreements of the day was made when the senate conferees receded from the amendment to free list the cheaper grades of woolen blankets and accepted the house paragraph making them dutiable at 25 per cent ad valorem.

The paragraph on woolen yarns was compromised by splitting almost equally the difference between the two houses, the house having voted a 20 per cent and the senate a 15 per cent duty. Similar treatment was given the duty on tops, made dutiable by the house at 15 per cent duty and by the senate at 5 per cent.

Slight changes were made in the senate's rates on woolen stockings and the house paragraph on oriental rugs was adopted. Angora goats and mohair were passed over, the conferees not being able to agree.

Slight reductions were made in the senate rates on paper. The only paragraph in this schedule not disposed of was that dealing with lithographed picture cards and booklets. This was passed by for further consideration.

A delayed speech in support of the tariff bill was made in the senate today by Senator Thomas of Colorado, a democratic member of the finance committee. The senator had prepared his speech for delivery during the tariff debate, but was prevailed upon to withhold it so that passage of the bill might not be delayed.

He warmly defended the sugar schedule and declared that much of the agitation against free sugar by the beet sugar interests was based on a misapprehension.

Overcapitalization on corporations and discriminatory freight rates were denounced by the senator as causes of the high cost of living. He characterized the watering of stock as legalized robbery, and declared, if it were necessary to get equitable freight rates, he favored government ownership of railroads.

CULBERSON IMPROVES.

Cromwell, Conn., Sept. 15.—United States Senator Charles A. Culberson of Texas, who has been at a sanitarium in Cromwell several weeks, because of illness brought on by overwork, is reported today as making rapid recovery and plans to go to Washington in a few weeks to resume his duties.

Burlington County Judge.

Austin, Sept. 15.—J. R. Hooper was today appointed special judge of Burlington county in place of Judge R. J. Alexander, disqualified.

J. S. Goodrich was appointed special judge of Sabine county in place of Judge R. Lewis, disqualified.

Abbott to Dallas.

Austin, Sept. 15.—Dr. J. S. Abbott, pure food and drug commissioner, has gone to Dallas for several days on business connected with the department.

Frank Bushick, inspector of the department, has been appointed to investigate the condition of the bakeries in San Antonio, and also to take up samples of vinegar for analysis by the department.

Doughty Returns.

Austin, Sept. 15.—W. F. Doughty, superintendent of public instruction, has returned from San Antonio, Houston and Dallas, where addresses were delivered to teachers' institutes. He will attend the Caldwell county teachers' institute tomorrow.

ATTACKS 20 PER CENT CLAUSE

Minority Cries of "Gag Law" and "Caucus Rule" Unheeded.
Work Is Rapid.

Washington, Sept. 15.—With well oiled legislative machinery working smoothly, the administration currency bill rolled steadily toward completion today under detailed consideration in the house. A chorus of democratic "noes" quickly disposed of the numerous efforts of republicans and progressives to alter the provisions of the measure as agreed on by the democratic caucus. Not a single material amendment was voted into the bill.

At the close of the day nearly half of the bill had been read. At this rate the house leaders thought they might be able to finish some time Wednesday.

The debate bristled with charges of "gag law" and "caucus rule" from the minority, with occasional sympathetic replies from the democratic side, but when the votes were needed, the line held firm behind Chairman Glass of the banking and currency committee.

Representative Mondel of Wyoming voted considerable time to pleading with the democrats to "break the shackles" and desert the caucus pledge. Mr. Mondel became involved in a spirited controversy with Representative Stanley of Kentucky, who was something to say about republican caucus action. Representative Donovan, democrat, of Connecticut, joined with Representative Mondel in one of his attacks, declaring that the leaders had abandoned the currency bill to the new members of the house.

"Not more than half a quorum is here," he shouted. "They draw their pay regularly and abandon the work attached to their positions. This is nothing more than stealing."

"What could they do if they were here?" demanded Representative Mondel. "The caucus has foreclosed all action on the bill."

Attack 20 Per Cent Clause.

A rapid fire of amendments was directed by the minority against the section of the bill providing that national banks must subscribe a sum equal to 20 per cent of their capital in the federal reserve bank in their district. Representative Lindbergh of Minnesota, engaged clear and warmer weather for Waco today. The low barometric pressure that swathed this city and the country contiguous for several days preceding had shifted last night and was centered over the Mississippi valley. A slightly higher pressure was moving in from the northwest.

Local Temperatures.

Range of thermometers yesterday as recorded by Dr. Block: Maximum 72½, minimum 62, barometer 29.93, humidity 95. Total wind passage 124 miles, an average of 51.6 miles an hour; the highest velocity attained was 9 miles, which was noted between 3 and 4 p. m.

CHANGE COTTON TARIFF ABOLITION OF DIFFERENTIALS APPLYING AGAINST PORTS OF TEXAS.

Austin, Sept. 15.—The draft of the cotton tariff drawn by Commissioner Earle B. Mayfield of the State Railroad commission was completed today. It is the first of those to be considered by the commissioners since the hearing at Galveston some months ago and deals with the abolition of the differential applying against Texas ports.

Action, however, by the commission will be deferred for some time. Commissioner Williams will not return to this city from California until October 1, and Chairman Allison Mayfield questions the abolition of the differential without the reduction of rates. He does not believe that the testimony at the Galveston hearing was sufficient to show that the railroads of Texas could stand a reduction at this time.

Judge Williams is expected to object to the disturbance that might be created by a change in the present cotton rates and the effect it would have on existing cotton marketing contracts that are based on present transportation charges. Earle Mayfield says this latter would have no effect with him and is hoping that one of the other commissioners will join him.

VISIT HISTORIC BATTLEFIELDS
IN VICINITY OF CHAT-TANOOGA.

GUIDES EXPLAIN MANEUVERS

Information Given Is Supposedly Authentic, but Men Who Participated Often Correct.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 15.—The formal opening today of the Grand Army of the Republic's 47th annual encampment was occupied chiefly with sightseeing tours to historic battlefields in this vicinity. A drizzling rain which lasted until midnight did not deter thousands of veterans from making pilgrimages to Lookout Mountain, Chickamauga Park and Missionary Ridge.

Today was officially designated as "Lookout Mountain Day."

For this reason a majority of the veterans visited the scenes of the struggles fifty years ago of Confederate forces under Generals Bragg and Longstreet and Union troops commanded by Generals Grant and "Pap" Thomas.

The veterans were divided into groups upon reaching the mountain and special guides explained the maneuvers of the competing forces and told thrilling stories of many sharp encounters. Although these guides learned the facts of their stories from what are considered authoritative sources, they were frequently interrupted by veterans who participated in the struggle and who volunteered corrections.

Interest of the veterans already is being manifested in the election of a commander in chief of the G. A. R. to succeed General Alfred B. Heers. Among the names prominently mentioned in this connection are Private Orlando Somers of Kokomo, Ind.; Col. Clair E. Adams of Superior, Neb.; Washington Gardner of Kalamazoo, Mich.; and Gen. J. N. Harrison of the department of Kansas.

Business Sessions Thursday.

The first general business session of the national encampment will be called to order Thursday morning and the election of officers is likely to take place soon thereafter.

Representatives from three cities have entered the contest for the 48th annual encampment. Delegations from Mobile, Ala., Houston, Texas, and Detroit, Mich., are seeking this honor.

Estimates place the number of visitors and veterans in the city tonight at 35,000. This includes delegates to the allied organizations holding simultaneous meetings in connection with the national encampment. Among the many departments reported present tonight are:

Arkansas—A. S. Fowler, Little Rock; Kansas—J. N. Harrison, Topeka; Louisiana and Mississippi—E. K. Russ, New Orleans; Oklahoma—L. C. Coffin, Elgin; Texas—Sidney Tuttle, San Antonio.

A reception to which all the veterans were invited was tendered to the visitors tonight.

The forty-first reunion of the Army of the Cumberland also was formally opened today. Today's session was devoted to routine business while tonight an address was delivered by General Anson Mills, U. S. A.

Employees of New Haven Responsible for Wreck

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 15.—Three employees of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad are held by Coroner Eli Mix to be criminally responsible for the disastrous wreck at North Haven on September 2, when the White Mountain Express plunged through the second section of the Bar Harbor Express, exacting a toll of twenty-one lives.

The coroner's finding was filed today after he had conducted a "private" inquest.

Those held to be responsible for the wreck are Augustus B. Miller, engineer of the White Mountain Express, and Bruce C. Adams and Charles Murray, conductor and flagman, respectively, of the Bar Harbor train.

The coroner neither blames nor absolves the New Haven road. He finds the signals were in perfect working order, "and whether the banjo signals are obsolete or not," the accident would have been prevented if the company's rules had not been violated. He declares the number of violations of rules by employees "makes a sorry record."

Engineer Miller was arrested on a bench warrant this afternoon and pleaded not guilty before the superior court.

AMMUNITION SMUGGLERS CONNECTED WITH ACTIVITIES OF INDUSTRIAL WORKERS OF WORLD IN MEXICO

Barney Cline, American Leader of Gang, Claims That Organization Is Being Perfected in the Northern States of Republic.

Carrizo Springs, Tex., Sept. 15.—Evidence of activity of the Industrial Workers of the World in Mexico and their alleged connection with the political strife now raging in that country was given here today by Mexican ammunition smugglers, awaiting trial for the murder of a deputy sheriff in a battle Thursday last.

Barney Cline or Charles Cline, as he is also known, the American leader of the band, told District Attorney Valias that Zapata, leader of a Mexican faction, was carrying on propaganda of the I. W. W. and was now perfecting an organization in Northern Mexico.

Zapata's activities have been chiefly confined to the south heretofore.

As authority for his statements, Cline showed an I. W. W. membership card and a letter purporting to be from Jay Smith, a financial secretary of the order, which commended him for his work in the Menardville, La., strike and spoke of his opposition to all unionism, especially union railroad men. Names and addresses of alleged I. W. W. agents in practically every large city in the country were shown by Cline in his memorandum book.

Texas points included Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Mercedes and Coleman. Cline claimed that most of his smuggling party came from Dallas and Fort Worth. Other papers supposedly sent out by Flores Magon of Los Angeles, asserted the equal right of all men to all property, in accordance with their needs and desires, and several of the prisoners had signed their names to attached promises to fight "for the liberty of the Mexicans, for land and liberty."

A red flag captured with the band bears the inscription, "Tierra y Libertad," literally meaning "Land and Freedom." All found in the band today by the grand jury here charged with murder for killing Posseman Cal-declared Ortiz last week. Trial was set for Thursday.

Burden Bearers.

Former Sheriff Eugene Buck, who was captured with Ortiz, said he was forced to carry heavy packages of supplies in spite of the smugglers' fast pace, that he fell twice from exhaustion and was each time threatened with death. He said he saved his life by telling his captors he would be valuable as a hostage. Buck today identified the indicted men. Charles Cline, the American captured with the Mexicans, has offered to turn state's evidence. The state has not indicated whether it will accept. Cline claims there is an underground railway for what he calls "gun running" from San Antonio through Knippa and Carrizo Springs, Tex., to the Mexican border. This, he said, was a second trip over the underground route. Federal officers have begun investigating his revelations, which implicate several Americans. Two merchants here are in jail charged with smuggling.

Postal card pictures taken from the hands of the prisoners have been identified as girls in Mexican attire. It is believed part of the band was recruited from that section. J. M. Ranter, one of the indicted men, claimed today that he is a captain in the constitutional army. A detachment of the Fourth United States cavalry will remain here a few days to assist in keeping down smuggling and five Texas rangers are here to help preserve order. The town seemed very quiet today.

The men indicted were J. M. Ranter, Leonard Vasquez, Abram Cisneros, Domingo Rosas, Bernardino Mendoza, Eugenio Alzalde, Louis Mendoza, Louis Gonzales, Miguel Martinez, Lucio Ortiz, Jesus Gonzales, J. A. Serrato, Pedro Perales and Charles Cline. The wounded among these prisoners are: Francisco Rosas, Bernardino Mendoza, Eugenio Alzalde, Louis Mendoza, Louis Gonzales, Miguel Martinez, Lucio Ortiz, Jesus Gonzales, J. A. Serrato, Pedro Perales and Charles Cline. The court today appointed as their counsel James Brown, formerly a mayor of Nashville, Tenn., and A. P. Johnson.

Norris Root Murdered.

San Francisco, Sept. 15.—News of the murder of Norris P. Root, American superintendent of the El Tigre mines at Tepic, Mexico, was brought here yesterday by the steamer Peru. The mining engineer was intercepted by a few bandits as he was on his way to join employees of the company, who were preparing to defend the mine property. He was disarmed and cut to pieces.

Root was 56 years old and had been in Mexico 16 years.

Max Lambert, another American engineer, who arrived on the Peru, was left for dead by bandits who attacked

Mexican Independence.

Mexico City, Sept. 15.—"Viva la Independencia! Viva Mexico!" was the cry which ushered in tonight the celebration of the 103rd anniversary of Mexico's independence. As in the capital, so every city, town and hamlet observed the time-honored custom marking the hour of the ringing of the first liberty bell.

Sharp on the stroke of 11 o'clock, in the presence of thousands who packed the big square in front of the national palace, President Huerta appeared on the balcony and grasped the cord attached to the tongue of the big bell suspended above and shouted the magic words. Instantly the crowd burst into an echoing roar of vivas.

For the fourth successive year a new president officiated at the mid-night independence ceremony.

General Porfirio Diaz for the last time sounded the liberty bell at the celebration of the 100th anniversary, 1910. He was followed by Francisco de la Barra as provisional president, who in turn was succeeded by Madero a year ago.

For hours tonight the air was filled with bursting fireworks. The palace, the cathedral and the municipal palace, surrounding the big square and park were outlined in electric lights. Flags and bunting were everywhere.

Following the "grito" President and Senora Huerta gave an elaborate reception in the halls of the palace. Tomorrow the celebration will be on in earnest. A monster parade will be the feature.

Battleship at Vera Cruz.

Vera Cruz, Sept. 15.—The United States battleship South Carolina sailed from here tonight for Chesapeake Bay. The Michigan is due to arrive tomorrow morning.

Neither Envoy Lind nor Consul Canada has been advised by the state department of the extension of the consular power to the protection of the consuls of the other powers.

The retiring British minister, Francis W. Stearns, left the city today for Mexico City on the special train maintained by the government solely for the president's use. He expects to sail for Europe Tuesday.

As a compliment to Mexico, Rear Admiral Fletcher, in command of the United States warships, planned to join the Mexican warships with a salute of twenty-one guns at 11 o'clock and at midnight in honor of independence day, and also to run up the Mexican flag, focusing upon it the searchlights.

Americans Not Guilty.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 15.—F. Jonas and Tom Heifner were today declared not guilty of murder for killing Captain F. Acosta of the Mexican federal army on the international bridge. Jonas is a customs official and Heifner an immigration officer.

Acosta had declared to his associates in Juarez before mounting his horse to ride across the bridge that he was coming to this side "to kill a gringo."

After hearing the testimony of Jonas, Judge Jackson of the Fifty-Fourth State District court ordered the jury to return a verdict of not guilty in both cases. The American testified that the Mexican opened fire first with a rifle.

Believe Celebration In Mexico Will Be Orderly

Washington, Sept. 15.—State department officials were resting secure tonight in the belief that tomorrow's celebration of the anniversary of Mexican independence, though it might be marked by interesting developments, would not jeopardize the safety of Americans in Mexico. They are confident that in the capital, where the federal authorities are in full control, there is no possibility of an anti-American demonstration that would involve risk of personal injuries while in the outlying states the officials are under the strictest injunction from General Huerta to extend full protection to Americans.

In the country dominated by the constitutionalists, the various local leaders are treating Americans courteously, and on the whole the only element of danger is believed to lie with the irresponsible brigand bands that are particularly active in the southern section.

Secretary Bryan said late today he had sent messages to the American consuls at Chihuahua and Tepic inquiring as to the truth of the report that Morris F. Root, a nephew of Senator Root, had been shot at the latter place. Mr. Bryan, however, is acting entirely upon newspaper reports of the affair.

The embarkation of American refugees on the west coast of Mexico continues and the American consular officer at Los Mochis reported that six American adults, eight children and one German were leaving the district for the United States on the cruiser Yorktown today. Seventy Americans remain at Los Mochis and there are fifty more in the district, mostly north of San Blas. It is expected that fifteen will leave on the transport Buford.

SHORTEN ENLISTMENT

SECRETARY GARRISON STATES
PLAN TO INDUCE GOOD MEN INTO RANKS.

Says Army Is in Better Shape Than Ever Before—Does Not Discuss Concentration.

Washington, Sept. 15.—"I don't believe the army was ever in better condition," said Secretary Garrison when he returned to his desk at the war department today after an absence of two months, during which he visited all the important military posts, outside of New England and some of the stations in the Middle States.

"If we are going to attract the men we want and raise the efficiency of the army, we must have a shorter term of enlistment," he said. "I am in favor of a three-year term with the privilege of discharge into the reserve as soon as an enlisted man proves his efficiency. I have not decided what the shortest period of service with the colors should be."

Secretary Garrison said he had not yet decided what period a discharged soldier should serve in the reserve. "I favor vocational training for the army," he continued, "so that in addition to the military training and discipline which a man would acquire through service, he would leave with some trade when he goes again into civil life. Wherever I went I found universal approval of this plan."

Mr. Garrison says he does not favor, nor would the country tolerate a large standing army. He declined to discuss plans for concentration of the army in a few strategic centers instead of having it distributed throughout 157 posts.

Secretary Garrison received from Brig.-Gen. Frank McIntyre, chief of the bureau of insular affairs of the war department a copy of the voluntary report on slavery and peonage in the Philippines, made by Commissioner Dean Worcester, who retired from office today.

The report was submitted by Mr. Worcester to former Governor General Forbes several weeks ago and reached Washington in Secretary Garrison's absence. Its important features probably will be submitted to the new Philippine governor general, Francis Burton Harrison, now on his way to the islands.

IRRIGATION WRANGLE

PEYTON CREEK COMPANY OF MATAGORDA COUNTY FILES
FIRST APPLICATION.

Validity of Bonds Attacked on Account of Tangle in Length of Terms of Directors.

Austin, Sept. 15.—The Peyton Creek Irrigation company of Matagorda county filed the first application under the irrigation law as passed at the regular session of the legislature today in conformance with the provisions of the statute. Assistant Attorney General W. M. Harris today filed in the Twenty-Sixth District court an answer to the prayer for a decree declaring the bond issue legal. The bond issue proposed is $125,000.

The validity of the bonds is attacked on the grounds that the old law gave the board of directors a four year term of office, while the new law allows the board of directors but two year terms. Since that section of the law is inseparably connected with the balance of the law, it is the contention of the attorney general's department that the whole must fail. Proceedings for the issuance of the bonds was held under the old law.

It is set out in the answer that the old law and the new law provide for the purchase of irrigation plants, etc., whereas Article 3, Section 52, of the constitution provides for the construction of pools, lakes, reservoirs, dams, canals and waterways for the purposes of irrigation, etc., or in aid thereof, and the bond statute insofar as it authorizes the issuance of bonds and the levying of any tax by such districts for any purpose other than as provided by the constitution, are null and void.

The new law provides that twenty days after publication of notice, or as soon thereafter as practicable, the directors for the irrigation company shall employ an attorney to bring suit in the name of the irrigation district in the district court for the purpose of enforcing all taxes, interest, penalties and costs due upon the land. Petitioner shall describe all lands upon which taxes and penalties shall remain unpaid and the total amount of the taxes and penalties due thereon with interest computed thereon to the time of filing the suit, and shall pay for the fixing, establishing and foreclosing the lien existing against the land, and that the land be sold to satisfy the judgment.

Hanleys, Father and Son, Reconciled

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 15.—The Rev. Elijah M. Hanley, president of Franklin college, late today was indicted by the Vigo county grand jury on a charge of assault and battery growing out of his attack on his father, Calvin Hanley, last Thursday. President Hanley is said to be at Franklin, Ind., and the Rev. C. M. Parker, a member of the board of trustees of the institution, told court officials tonight that he would appear when wanted.

The alleged assault on Calvin Hanley took place at his home near Middletown, Ind., when it was charged that the minister attacked his father because of remarks made to his daughter-in-law and on account of treatment accorded Mrs. Calvin Hanley, to which his son objected.

The father told neighbors that he had been beaten with a club and kicked by Dr. Hanley. Dr. Hanley in a statement issued at Indianapolis Saturday declared he had not beaten his father, but had "switched and spanked" his parent for ill treatment of his mother and members of his family. In this statement he recited at length what he termed abuse of his mother by his father and asserted he should have taken a hand in matters years before. Before returning to Terre Haute Saturday night, the Rev. Mr. Hanley went to his father's farm, where a reconciliation is said to have taken place. Then, it was said, the father begged forgiveness for his actions, and the son, kneeling before his parent, asked his blessing and both pledged themselves to forget the incident and work together for the happiness of Mrs. Calvin Hanley.

When the reconciliation was announced a member of the board of trustees of Franklin college announced that the affair was closed as far as the college was concerned.

The Rev. Mr. Hanley is regarded as one of the leading Baptist ministers of the country, having held important posts at Cleveland, Ohio, and Providence, R. I.

THAW IN CUSTODY
OF U. S. MARSHAL

NUTE WILL TAKE FUGITIVE TO LITTLETON FOR HEARING.

IS TO PREVENT KIDNAPING

Constable Who Arrested Jerome Runs
Afoul of U. S. Immigration Officers.

Colebrook, N. H., Sept. 15.—The judicial branch of the United States government assumed joint guardianship of Harry K. Thaw tonight. By virtue of a writ of habeas corpus issued at Concord Saturday United States Marshal E. P. Nute became one of the Matagorda fugitive's custodians and tomorrow morning Thaw will be taken to Littleton, N. H., and produced before Judge Edgar Aldrich in the United States District court. The writ was obtained by Thaw's lawyers as a weapon against Wm. Travers Jerome in case Jerome should essay forcibly to get Thaw across the New York border. Before the federal court tomorrow they will seek to have the writ continued to safeguard their client should Governor Feltner find against Thaw in the extradition hearing to be held at Concord probably on Wednesday.

Jerome will oppose the continuance of the writ and insist on an immediate hearing, even though there is a possibility that Thaw may be released from custody.

Jerome believes Thaw's counsel would make no movement to get their client out of the state under the circumstances and that Thaw would be immediately arrested and brought before the governor as arranged.

Both factions planned tonight to leave Colebrook for Littleton tomorrow morning. The distance is about forty-four miles. Thaw is eagerly anticipating the trip. It is the first time with the exception of bankrupt proceedings at Pittsburgh that his case has ever been in the federal courts and the sovereign power of Uncle Sam gives him a sense of security against kidnaping.

Nute at Colebrook.

Marshal Nute reached Colebrook this afternoon. The only he bore was directed against Holman Drew, sheriff of Cook county, or any other custodian of Thaw. But because the sheriff was temporarily absent the marshal refrained from serving the writ and banded it to the sheriff in person on his return here tonight.

Thaw spent an uneventful day. Only once did he leave his hotel and that was to get shaved. He heard with interest tonight that John Andrews, the Coalbrook constable who arrested Jerome on the charge of gambling, of which he subsequently was exonerated, had run afoul of the United States immigration law. Tonight Andrews was held here in the custody of Charles Kelley, Colebrook's chief of police, pending the arrival of Geo. R. Allen, a United States immigration officer, stationed at Island Pond, Vt. Allen telephoned that he had a warrant for the arrest of Andrews, charging him with assisting a pauper woman to enter this country in violation of the immigration laws.

Andrews said tonight he was a Liverpool, a native of New Hampshire, although he had lived in Coalbrook for nearly thirty years, and knew nothing of the charge against him.

John Lanyon, a private detective, who has been acting as Jerome's aide, caused Andrews to be detained. Jerome said tonight he had no part in the arrest. Thaw, indignant, characterized the whole affair as a piece of spitwork.

Inspector Allen took custody of Andrews shortly before 10 o'clock. He said he was under indictment returned by the federal grand jury at Windsor, Vt., in May of this year. It is charged that the offense was committed in October, 1912, when, it is alleged, Andrews with others smuggled the pauper woman into the United States from Coalbrook to Reading, Mass. The maximum penalty for the offense is a fine of $1000 and two years' imprisonment.

Vitalitas.

As an instance of what Vitalitas is doing for Texas railroad men, the following story is given. It is told by Mr. D. A. Treadway, engine foreman in the I. & G. N. yards, at Houston. His home is at 2611 Sumpter street.

"I was crazed with pain caused by rheumatism. I had not slept for nights and my arms were swollen twice their normal size. I thought I would die. I used $1.50 worth of chloroform, but my suffering continued. Wonderful as it may seem, after treating my arms, shoulders and back with Vitalitas and taking it internally, I slept that night like a child. After taking three externally each day for a week, I was free from pain and returned to my regular work. I am now as sound as a dollar and exposed to all kinds of weather. I will never quit shouting for Vitalitas."

Not only for rheumatism is Vitalitas specially effective, but for all stomach troubles, all ills of the kidneys, liver and blood. It puts new life, new vitality into every function and atom of the body. Diseased conditions cannot remain where Vitalitas is used. Those who are debilitated, nervous, dyspeptic, rheumatic, suffer catarrhal or bilious ailments, or with those insidious ills of kidneys and liver, will find speedy relief and cure in Vitalitas.

You can sample Vitalitas today at the Powers-Kelly Drug Co.

40,000 EMPLOYEES PROTECTED

Numbers of Applications Continue to Arrive—Employers Must Notify Acceptance.

Austin, Sept. 14.—More than 40,000 employees are protected to date under the provisions of the employers' liability act. Each day a large number are received by Secretary Collins; however, it is the belief of the members of the board that many companies are unaware of the necessity of advising the board should they choose to have protected under the law.

Unless employers notify the board of their acceptance of the provisions of the act and their names and number of employees are recorded, no protection can be given. It is a noticeable fact that every lumber company in East Texas has come within the act, with the exception of one of the largest concerns, having headquarters at Houston.

Reports of minor accidents continue to be received by the board from concerns whose names have not been enrolled with the board. Under a recent action of the attorney general this action is unnecessary, and only a record need be kept of such accidents occurring to employees whose employers are registered with the board.

As yet the third member of the board has not been chosen, although it has been proffered to several. It is the general belief that there will be some trouble in filling this position because of the conditions surrounding the appointment of a member who will represent the employers. According to the act he must be an employer of at least five men per year. As the position pays but $2,500 a year, it is thought that any man who employs any labor will clear that much and even more and will thus have to accept the position at a sacrifice of money and business interests after expiration of term of office.

JACK JOHNSON TO RETURN

Negro Heavyweight Pugilist Will Appear—Case Comes Up in Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Jack Johnson, the champion heavyweight prize fighter, will return to Chicago from France when his appeal on a conviction for violation of the Mann white slave act is returned, according to Benj. Bach, the negro's attorney. Bach and Assistant Attorney Harry Parkin argued before Federal Judge Carpenter today on the question of the proper form for a bill of exceptions on which Johnson's appeal is based. Johnson's trial in the Milwaukee cases of his indictment under the Mann act is set for the middle of October. No date has been set for the hearing before the court of appeals.

EMERY IN DEFENSE

AGENT OF MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION DENOUNCES MULHALL.

Denies Charge of Lobbyist—Assails
Character of Witnesses—Refers to Gompers' Testimony.

Washington, Sept. 15.—The defense of the National Association of Manufacturers to the charges of a checkered and improper political career in Washington and elsewhere, made by its former lobbyist Martin M. Mulhall, was concluded tonight by James A. Emery, chief agent of the association at the capital.

For nearly three hours Emery addressed the house lobby committee. He made a detailed denial of Mulhall's charges that the association packed congressional committees, that it rode rough shod over those members who opposed its legislative will, that it changed with frequency and at great expense to elect its favored congressional friends and that it spent several hundred thousand dollars in "lobby work" through Mulhall himself.

With impassioned oratory Emery denounced the ideas of labor favoring legislation which Mr. Gompers and the union campaign so vigorously to get from congress.

Referring to Mulhall himself, Emery surpassed in condemnation any of the public men who have taken the stand during the investigation to attack the lobbyist's remarkable story.

"The evidence before this committee conclusively demonstrates that the character of Mulhall destroys every right to believe him, nor is his written word worth more than his oral statement," said he. "By his own testimony, against that of his letters, by the falsity of their contents, proved by independent witnesses, by the deception, teachery and falsehood that underlies every relation of his life, he is utterly unworthy of belief."

"Dismissed from his employment two years ago, he undertook to betray his employers while still in their pay to the committee of organized labor and while pleading for reinstatement he was manufacturing evidence to vilify former benefactors. By the evidence which he has himself produced he portrays himself assailing with incredible virulence those for whom he professes gratitude, equally with those who are the evident objects of malice and long plotted revenge."

Oyster Test Too
Severe for Texas
Bivalves to Pass

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 15.—Galveston people are eating oysters from Louisiana and at steadily advancing prices, despite the fact that within a few miles of the city some of the best oyster beds in the south are located. This has come to pass, say a number of dealers, because of the stringent rulings of the state game, fish and oyster department as to the size of oysters that may be legally marketed. According to these dealers the department holds that the marketable oysters shall measure at least 3½ inches from mouth to hinge. This, they say, would not be so bad if outside measurement is taken, but they declare the department insists upon inside measurement.

It is the contention of the dealers that oysters grown in Texas waters are more nearly round than elongated and that the 3½ test is too severe and sets a standard that cannot be attained except for a very small quantity of bivalves.

C. W. Boyd of Lorena Tells What Glasses Accomplished for His Son
James and How the Boy Has Been Enabled to Discontinue Their Use After Wearing the Glasses Constantly for Three Years—Dr. W. B. Georgia, Waco's Eyesight Specialist, Prescribed the Glasses.

Three years ago C. W. Boyd, a prominent resident of Lorena, Texas, accompanied by his son, James, called on Dr. W. B. Georgia, Waco's expert eyesight specialist. At that time the boy was suffering with eye defects and was unable to attend school with any regularity, owing to the severity of the eyestrain.

Dr. W. B. Georgia examined the boy's eyes and informed the father that if he could wear glasses constantly the glasses would not only overcome the headache, sick stomach and dizziness complained of, but would also correct the errors of the eyes so as to enable the child to discontinue the use of glasses after a period of two or three years.

A few weeks ago Mr. Boyd called at Dr. Georgia's office and informed that gentleman that the boy no longer needed the glasses and that during the time that he wore them the child

CHARGES AGAINST THAYER.

Judge at Shanghai Accused of Neglecting His Work.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Charges against Judge Rufus P. Thayer, United States district judge at Shanghai, China, were laid before the house committee on expenditures in the state department today by John P. Curtis.

Curtis charged that Judge Thayer left his court at Shanghai and spent much time in Canton while prisoners were awaiting trial before him. He also charged that the expense accounts of the court were irregular.

The committee will receive documentary evidence in support of the charges Wednesday.

The Change Success Makes.

(New York Times.)
Tom Mann, the English aviator, in a speech made at Exeter to an I. W. W. audience, warned his hearers among other things, not to expect to derive any permanent or substantial advantages from the election of their own leaders and sympathizers to places of influence and authority in legislative bodies.

"Of course that is not the belief of the more conservative labor organizations, seeking to attain their ends by means more or less lawful and orderly, and to regulate the social system rather than to destroy it. For men like Mann and his followers, however, and from their point of view, the statement contains a good deal of truth, though he made it without seeming or at any rate without wanting to bring out its real significance."

By frequent and sad experience they have learned that, no matter how "advanced" may be the theories and purposes of one of their associates while he has nothing of place, possession or responsibility, no matter how utter his contempt or how fierce his antagonism toward things as they are, he is sure to become, if not a conservative, at least more conservative than he was or they are, as soon as he finds himself with what he had hitherto lacked.

He then attacks the existing situation with a new caution, and with his escape from the masses into one of suppress by more drastic measures.

Mrs. Braside—"Was your house party a success?" Mrs. Contryoot—"Yes, indeed. There wasn't one of them who wasn't engaged the first week and there wasn't two of them who would speak to each other the second."—Puck.

MORE ROOM WANTED

REMODELING OF CITY HALL MAY BE DISCUSSED TONIGHT.

Commissioners Divided in Sentiment as to Desirability of the Project.

The question of remodeling the present city hall building may again be discussed at the meeting of the city commission to be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

At a previous meeting, on motion of Commissioner J. W. Foster, the commission authorized the mayor to obtain estimates and plans from architects looking to the remodeling of the building. Commissioner Littlefield voted for the motion on protest and Commissioner Caulfield was not present when the matter was taken up. For this reason it is probable that when the matter is again taken up it may have to be passed again; at least it may come in for discussion. Mr. Littlefield is opposed to spending any great amount on the present building and also is opposed to asking for bonds for building a new city hall. Commissioner Caulfield also hesitates about the bond question, and when the matter is brought up some other action may be taken.

At present all departments of the city are crowded. The city secretary's office, the water commission office, the tax assessor and collector's office and other officers, it is said, have not sufficient room to properly carry on the business of the city. White goods thing must be done to relieve the congestion is admitted, but just what will be the program of the commission has not been fully established.

A SPECIAL REQUEST COMES FROM THE WOMAN EDITOR

Now that the various women's organizations are resuming regular meetings, the woman editor of the Morning News urgently requests each president to designate some one member of her body to keep the editor notified of meetings, day, place and time. In case one notification has been given and change occurs, this member should be prompt in notifying the editor. Please do a part in establishing this convenience.

The items are requested to be in before noon, however, in case of emergency, they may be telephoned at a later hour.

MRS. W. W. WOODSON HEARS MISS LATHROP

Among the many other things of which Mrs. W. W. Woodson availed herself during her present trip through the East, was the address of Miss Julia Lathrop before the New York Chautauqua. Whenever a new movement is launched, especially one of national import, repetition is necessary in order to put the public into touch with the significance of that move. Thus it comes, that frequent mention will be made of Miss Julia Lathrop and the work she has undertaken. All women, who read and are progressive, know that Miss Lathrop is a woman of the hour. But, not all know the nature of her work, and the object in her tour of the states. Miss Lathrop in her early life showed an inclination towards work for humanity. She was intimately associated with Jane Adams in her formative period for the great settlement work in America. Following that, she came to Chicago. Following, Miss Lathrop girded the world, studying in every country the conditions in which the children lived. It was but natural that, when America came to establish a Child Welfare Bureau, that Miss Lathrop should be selected as the woman to organize and propagate this work. It had been claimed by the club women all over the country that it was national shame for the welfare of the child. Sufficient sentiment was created for the Child Welfare Bureau to be established. This is not one year old. Miss Lathrop has been sent upon a tour of the states to tell the people what this bureau means for the American child, what it will attempt, and what response it expects from the people. The South is vitally interested, for the South has the mountaineers in their ignorance, also it has factories in prospect which means child labor.

As we saw as we was at the Chautauqua when Miss Lathrop was there. Knowing that a Chautauqua audience meant representatives of every state, this little woman ran up to Chautauqua, remained only between trains to deliver an address in the coliseum. Mrs. Woodson reports her a modest little body, who talks straight to the point, tells her plans for bettering the American child, tells what the mothers of this land can do, to assist in the work, appeals to the men who employ the child, and incites a response from every heart to aid in this work. What is this work? In a nutshell, it is to make a better man, mentally, morally, physically, of the American child; to throw such protection around him that he will come into his right; to make the man who will perpetuate a better race. Mrs. Woodson says Miss Lathrop's message appeals, for she is earnest, and she is pleasing both in appearance and in her manner of telling what she has to say. She is explanatory so that her hearers understand what the Child Welfare Bureau means.

Come to Waco.

The Texas tour includes only ten days. Waco will have Miss Lathrop November the 16th. The City Federation will present her. No charge will be made for the address. Since her Waco date falls on Sunday, it is hoped that Miss Lathrop will consent to address the mothers from the humblest homes as well as the men and women generally of this community. However, it is too early to do more than announce that this woman, now so much in the limelight of the nation, will be in this city, to tell us what she will do for our nation's child, and what we can do to aid her work which means so much for America.

SOME SCHOOL DON'TS FOR WACO MOTHERS

We are upon the threshold of another school year, an all important event to every household, high and low, in this city. Is it not timely to suggest a few thoughts for the mothers? Many a mother could smooth the friction in her child's life, if she would only have a more sympathetic care of her child. The average mother lets everything drift along until the child comes home to tell that he and the teacher had some difficulty. Then that mother puts on her war paint and goes down to tell the teacher what she thinks of her. She has never thought before that it might be a politic thing to meet that teacher; at least, learn her name, and her method of conducting her classes. This is only one instance where the mother, by a little forethought, could act differently. Of course nobody ever expects a father to take this interest. It is not even the equal division where the mother supervises the girl and the father the boy. Was there ever a father who knew whether his child's school room was properly ventilated? Was there ever a father who inquired about the condition of plumbing in the school? No, it is for the mothers. The mother must provide the child's physical comfort, she must attend to the books, she must supervise the study at home, she must visit the school to note conditions there, she must bear the unpleasantness if any comes. It is all for the mother. Why this? Is not the burden of raising the child an equal obligation? We always thought it was. But, we diverge; this was intended as a few remarks for the mothers.

Some Don'ts.
Don't neglect to read and to follow all the instructions given through the press, by Superintendent Lattimore. Remember, there are six thousand children to be received in the city school. This, to be done decently and in order, demands that each mother reads the instructions, and heeds.

Don't fail to become acquainted with your child's teacher as soon as possible. A morning spent in her room will do much towards establishing an intelligent understanding between home and school.

Don't fail to provide your child with necessities for his study promptly; the lack of even a lead pencil is often a serious detriment both to child and teacher.

Don't permit your daughter to attend school in a satin dress, even though it be a "worn out." This is not good taste and it shows that you are wanting in the refinement of dress.

Don't believe any tale your child tells you until you have investigated; however honest that child may be in intention, he does not always understand.

Train your child to respect the streets and the yards of those along his way to school. Don't permit him to strew the way with his bits of tablet paper.

Don't get into a frenzy of temper if your child is sent home for vaccination or other physical treatment; it is a kindness to the child, to insist that defects be removed. It is also showing respect for discipline.

Don't provide for your child's lunch any receptacle which will harbor impurities. The best of all is the paper bag, the paper napkin and the sanitary paper drinking cup.

Don't fail to be sympathetic with your child in his school life.

Is it possible that we are to have a reign of black for house decoration? The bit of black in a woman's toilet is quite French, and we like it, but we do not take kindly to the idea of looking at this somber tone day in and day out, with our home. They say the Chinese are responsible for black and gold coming to vogue for wall paper. Added to that, as relief, must be a peacock, to amaze those who prefer quiet tones and restful effect. From all this, fashion makers, deliver us.

It is now in order to request all women who are calling their clubs, to be prompt in notifying the Morning News editor, who hopes to be of service by having the daily budget fresh and accurate. This accuracy can be secured only through the forethought of the presidents and the secretaries of organizations.

In the meantime, do not forget the Cotton Palace and the woman's parade. Are the decorations ready for your vehicle? Do not hesitate because you have an old buggy. This is the very kind which yields more readily to decorations. For once, the woman with an automobile is at a disadvantage.

The Kewpies are now discussing coming out of summer quietude and treating friends to another of their brilliant dances.

Typographical Error May Hurt the State School for Blind

Austin, Sept. 15.—A typographical error that will hurt state institutions was discovered today when the board of managers of the state school for the blind discovered that the amount reported in the appropriation bill for expenses of the home, instead of $25,000, as was believed, was $2,500.

The superintendent and the board of managers are wondering what will be done to correct the error and sustain the school. Inasmuch, however, as the figures show plainly on the original and typed form and the typographical error is shown, it is believed that the attorney general's department will hold that the full amount of the appropriation should be given to the school.

Rural Route Carriers Are Not Required to Take Them Out.

Very Little Damage Results From the Storm Water of Last Week.

According to a ruling of the postoffice department received yesterday by Postmaster W. H. Hoffmann, rural carriers will not be allowed to collect loose coins in mail boxes in payment for unstamped matter. Carriers have suffered considerable inconvenience and their schedule has been well papered as a result of rural patrons depositing unstamped mail and loose coins to pay the carrier for affixing the postage. To remedy the inconvenience, the order referred to was issued, which reads as follows:

"The attention of postmasters at rural delivery offices and of rural carriers is again directed to the fact that carriers are not required to collect loose coins from rural mail boxes. Patrons should enclose coins in an envelope, wrap them securely in paper, or deposit them in coin-holding receptacle, so they can be easily and quickly taken from boxes and carriers will be required to lift such coins and when accompanied by mail for dispatch attach the requisite stamps."

"Carriers who lift coins not so inclosed, wrapped or deposited will do so purely as a matter of accommodation and not by any direction or requirement of the department."

Waco streets withstood the rain of the past four days as well as could be expected, considering the unusual amount of precipitation, according to Street Commissioner John Foster and City Engineer George Byars. Both made a trip of inspection over the principal streets yesterday, to determine what the damage from the rain had been. Their report was that save in a very few instances the streets were not materially damaged. Two places of particular note where damage was sustained was at Eighteenth street between Jefferson and Columbus and at Fourth street and Waco creek. In the former instance the sidewalk had caved in as had part of the alley between Jefferson and Columbus on Eighteenth street. At the latter place the sidewalk had been eaten out by the heavy flow of water.

Some damage also was sustained by gravel streets; that is, those streets on which no base for the gravel pavement had been laid. Especially were the gravel streets damaged where there was a grade of any steepness. The present commission is not building any streets of this kind, as gravel placed without a solid base has proven unsatisfactory and expensive. All gravel streets being constructed now have a base of solid material.

The gravel on North Twentieth between Jefferson and Fort was badly washed out by the storm water.

Self Help For Nervous Persons

Can often be achieved by a simple change of food and drink.

Much nervousness is caused by coffee drinking—eminent medical authorities having demonstrated that the coffee drug, caffeine, is a definite nerve poison to many persons.

Coffee has no food value whatever and is a deceitful friend. Under its use the nerves first become irritated; then so sensitive and "on edge" that a slight variation from general health often appears most serious to its victim.

However, Nature responds quickly to common-sense treatment, and right living frequently does more than medicine. So, if you value peace and comfort, try this easy experiment.

Stop coffee entirely and have hot, well-made

POSTUM

This pure food-drink made from prime wheat has a Java-like flavor and a fine dark brown color which changes to rich golden brown when cream is added.

It contains the genuine nourishing elements of the grain, but is absolutely free from the coffee drug, or any other harmful ingredient.

Postum comes in two forms.

Regular Postum must be well boiled.

Instant Postum is a soluble powder. A spoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a very palatable beverage instantly.

Thousands have been wonderfully benefited by using Postum instead of coffee—

"FOURTH FUNCTION OF GOVERNMENT."

Employers of Wisconsin paid $1,025,000 to liability insurance companies in 1911; scarcely $300,000 of it reached the pockets of the employees or their dependents. Ten thousand industrial accidents occur in Wisconsin each year, but scarcely 10 per cent of the injured receive any share of the $300,000.

According to The Survey, this is the big problem of the Industrial Commission of Wisconsin—to reduce the $1,025,000 paid by employees, to raise the $300,000 received by employees, and to distribute it among 10,000 instead of 1,000 employees.

Instead of creating a commission to administer the compensation law, and then leaving the factory inspector to enforce the safety laws, as other States have done, the Wisconsin legislature of 1911 consolidated the two departments in a single commission. And instead of specifying the many details of factory inspection, the legislature boiled them down into one paragraph, requiring the employer to protect the life, safety, health and welfare of employees, and authorizing the commission to draw up rules and orders specifying the details as to how it should be done.

The commission is a fourth branch of government, combining, but not usurping, the work of the three other branches. It is a legislature continually in session, yet to it the power of legislation is not delegated. It is an executive sharing with the government the enforcement of laws, but also enforcing its own orders. It is a court deciding cases that the judiciary formerly decided, but not assuming the authority of the courts.

This fourth function of government is sometimes designated as the administrative function. But the real distinction which entitles the commission to its position as a fourth branch of government is not administration, but investigation and research. But its investigations are not the academic research of the laboratory and study, but the constructive investigation of the administrator.

THE NEXT PEACE CONFERENCE.

Washington Post advises that "if the authorities of this government have been withholding preparations for war in the belief that arbitration and peace treaties may soon take the place of battleships, they need merely to turn to the program for the next Hague conference in 1915 for disillusionment."

"In The Hague we already have an international peace tribunal, and yet the preparations for the next conference include few of the sophistries of peace, but deal with the practical problems of war. Ever since the second peace conference of 1907, the Institute of International Law, which last week held its annual sessions, has been at work preparing for the third conference, to be held the year the Panama canal is to be opened to the public."

The institute has prepared a program of ten major questions to be dealt with at the next conference; it has carried out careful studies of these questions and some others; it has drawn up the groundwork of future international agreements on matters of great importance; it has still to act on a scheme for organizing the coming Hague conference that will, or may, make the next international meeting less muddled and more efficient than its somewhat unfortunate predecessor.

The program of subjects for the conference, as approved by formal vote of the Institute of International Law, is as follows:

1. Elaboration of a code relating to the laws and customs of naval warfare and dealing with the relations between the belligerents.

2. General treaty of arbitration.

3. Elaboration of a regulation concerning the permanent organization of the peace conference.

4. Extension of the convention of October 18, 1907, relating to the opening of hostilities, and to every means of national coercion in general.

5. Determination of territorial sea and a code for its management.

6. Effects of war on the rights of individuals coming from the belligerent nations.

7. Regulation of air craft in time of war.

8. Regulation of lighthouses in time of war.

9. Validity of arbitral decisions with regard to national powers and jurisdictions.

10. Diplomatic and consular immunities.

"There is nothing in this program that gives assurance that the United States can substitute peace treaties for an adequate army and navy," the Post concludes, "supplying with a few written documents a protection which the big powers are obtaining for themselves with an expenditure of millions of dollars for battleships. The program recognized the plain truth that the nations of the world are not yet ready to intrust their honor to courts of arbitration. The aim of the next peace conference will be to make war less cruel, but with no hope of substituting mediation or arbitration for the method which has prevailed since history was first recorded."

"FAIR TRIAL" FOR SULZER.

Gov. William Sulzer conferred Sunday night with counsel and after the conference his accustomed frankness with newspaper men brought forth this:

"I am going to be acquitted. I will have a fair trial. I have said some hard things about some of the senators and they have said some hard things about me; but this is a trial, not a political fight. They are both judges and jurors and I believe most of them are large enough and honest enough to rise above any personal feeling they may entertain toward me because of what I have said about them, and do me justice, and that is all I want."

We hope justice will be done Mr. Sulzer. There will be many who are glad the governor comes to his trial before the court of impeachment. Thursday, on these most serious charges of violating the corrupt practices act—and the rest—in that spirit of little bitterness that his accusers are also to be his judges. It cannot be disguised there is a deal of sympathy for Mr. Sulzer in this troublesome situation more genuine than whatever gratification, personal or patriotic on the part of New Yorkers whoirk under this revelation of their governor's behavior, there may be locally. At no time since the investigation of Sulzer's campaign financing began has the public of all the land forgotten the personnel of the inquiry or the shoddy political systems in New York state that doubtless are at the bottom of this disgraceful situation. There is no sympathy, nationally, for Sulzer's prosecution however much there may be a feeling that justice should be done and the Albany State house cleaned, with respect to the law.

There will not be additional charges concerning Mr. Sulzer's disposal of campaign contributions, or charges as to his conduct in office. Present charges are sufficient to warrant a trial for impeachment, as the resolution thereon was adopted by both houses of the assembly. It must be hoped in every region that Mr. Sulzer will be accorded a fair trial. Conditions political in Albany are most bitter in this crisis, and if there is any member of the big court that cannot pass on these charges impartially and honestly it would be well if the fact were ascertained independently and at once.

THE BATH TO THE FORE.

Mr. Albert Wilhelm, in one of those helpful discussions arranged for by Modern Sanitation, classes the bath with the school and the church as a factor in civic improvement. Large cities are learning that free bathing facilities are of inestimable benefit in raising the standard of citizenship.

Mr. Wilhelm writes his study of the public bath in the great cities like Boston, New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Paul—the centers of such large communities of foreigners—proves beyond question that water is doing a remarkable work along these lines, especially in connection with the public playgrounds.

"As might be expected, the majority of bathers at the city baths, especially the open air places, are of European nationalities, but the proportion is so much larger than the number of Americans that it is notable. Investigation shows that not only the Italian, but the Bohemian, Hungarian, the Pole and other classes composing so many of the work people in the greater cities have such a zest for bathing that in the season they come to the baths literally in throngs so that one may find the water occupied almost entirely by persons who as yet cannot speak a word of English, but are expressing their pleasure and delight in a jargon of tongues."

Boston forms an excellent illustration of the fact that the foreigner takes to the bath not only for enjoyment, but for cleanliness and health, and it has a great influence on him for civic betterment. Such a number began to patronize the public baths in this city, especially the sea water baths, when the present season opened that the officials in charge soon found that the habits of these people were such that they would be averse to going into the water, but the reverse is the case, as shown by the testimony of the men in charge. Citing the various public parks having open air baths, the superintendents of these baths, men who for the most part have served from ten to fifteen years at their stations, have seen this group of foreign born patrons, starting with a mere handful a few years ago, swell to proportions which threaten to outgrow the resources of the department. They have noted the changing character of the crowd and have seen the ones to report last season and this the noticeable increase of the foreign patronage.

Mr. Wilhelm notes that while the foreign element monopolizes the baths during a considerable portion of the bathing hours, they are at the same time patronized by the better classes and the Americans—but only when the latter can get a chance to have their exclusive use. The professional and business men have been forced to suit their bathing hours to a time when the others cannot be present on account of being at work, and the situation in Boston has aroused such a feeling that those whom we might call American born are now appealing for baths exclusive to themselves, although as yet they have not succeeded in securing such facilities at the public expense. Social settlement workers and others interested in the uplifting of the tenement districts in the cities all acknowledge that the opportunity to bathe daily if desired has already had a very beneficial effect upon the foreign element, including all the nationalities. It has tended to make them more cleanly in their homes, also in the shops and factories, and has undoubtedly made them more self-respecting.

In neighborhoods where the majority of the people patronize these bathing places it is noticeable that when they appear on the streets they are neater in their attire, and the women take more pride in the appearance of their homes, both inside and outside. One of the most significant factors is that the women do not neglect their children so much, and on the streets the boys and girls seen playing do not have the dirty faces, the unkempt hair, and the tattered and soiled clothing formerly a common sight in the Boston slums.

"From the medical standpoint this increase in the use of water at the public expense has done much to lessen the percentage of so-called hot weather diseases, especially among children, and the city and other physicians acknowledge that it has been a great benefit from a hygienic standpoint. The health board of Chicago has also made a study of the effect of bathing on an extensive scale as provided by the public baths in parks and on the lake front and has come to the same conclusion."

Waco's city government maintains a combination chemist and bacteriologist at $100 the month. It also maintains a city physician, who is the city "health officer," at $125 dollars the month. Mayor Mackey has not yet named his appointees to these two offices. The appointments were due, we think, after the seating of the new commission in May. We have ever been keenly interested in the public health, and the needs of the task of protecting and promoting public health in Waco appeal to us strongly. So strongly do these appeal to us, that even an "end" of the public health service for Waco, such as accurate reporting monthly of this city's births, deaths and contagious diseases, long-evity and unusual conditions in connection with such statistics, to the state registrar at Austin, is by us considered all-important; so we can share Registrar Babcock's gratification, expressed to us in a personal letter, at having come to an understanding with our city physician relative to this reporting, in which, it is known, Waco has been sadly deficient heretofore. Appointments to these two health offices, we note, are forthcoming. Therefore we would suggest to the mayor and his colleagues that the two offices be combined; that one be appointed to do the several duties of health officer and analyst who is fully qualified in the study of sanitation, materia medica, general diagnosis and treatment, including isolation and supervision of contagious and infectious diseases; who knows chemistry and is expert in bacteriology with especial reference to the city's water, food and milk supplies; who can spare neither eye for anything but his official, properly compensated task. We would suggest this combination of the two places into one, this most valuable official to be paid a respectable salary—$225 that are paid the two officials at present, or even a little more, if necessary—and that, above all, this official be required to have his office and laboratory in the city hall. There he will be accessible at reasonable office hours and within call at other times, as is required of the city electrician or the inspectors, for example. We consider the suggestion reasonable. We will be glad if the mayor and commissioners will think it over and act on it.

It is to sympathize with Mr. John Lind. By this time he must prefer an homeward cruise to Vera Cruz. Mr. Wilson should take pity on him and bring him home. A prolonged sojourn on the Mexican coast is no joy for even the most versatile and adaptable American.

Mr. T. H. Williams, city passenger and ticket agent of the Southern Traction company, is in Waco to take charge of his local office and arrange for the beginning of the Waco-Dallas interurban service. That is real news and good news. In less than a fortnight there will be interurban travel from the Central Texas metropolis through central and lower north Texas to the big city of our neighbor region. This district long has looked forward to the lengthening of the line from Waxahachie, that there might be an interurban system for all McLennan, Hill and Ellis counties with a trade center at either end of the line. And Mr. James P. Griffin, Southern Traction's general passenger agent, has published in these columns a strikingly attractive schedule for the beginning of the service. Interurbans hourly to Dallas and to Waco, with alternate cars to be operated practically as limited with stops only in the more settled communities, promises well for original accommodation. It is our hope that this line will soon attract such patronage that the company will find it profitable to give half-hour service, with the limited operated on the hour. That is our way of expressing confidence in the popularity and usefulness of the Waco-Dallas interurban, after it shall be "tried out" within a reasonable period, for patronage. Also, there is reason to congratulate the thriving city of Corsicana on acquiring a convenient schedule for its line to Dallas. Central Texas anticipates eagerly the beginning of interurban service. Its towns are preparing to usher in the event and its country places have given indication that this distinctly local facility for freight and passenger transportation will be well utilized, cooperating with the cities for common convenience.

At this writing the Mexican congress is awaiting the message of the person who calls himself president of the nation. This is occasion for the hoary question that had its origin when first it was noted that does bark for, or at the moon—what will the congress do with Huerta's message when congress gets it? Suppose the congress takes Huerta's word that the United States has adopted "coercive measures," as the latest dispatch from Mexico's capital oddly terms it—what then? Will the congress applaud Huerta as "patriotic" and encourage him still further in his policy of cheap bravado arrayed against genuine offers of assistance by this government if he will eliminate himself as the first muddling factor in all the vexed situation? Encourage him in inaction as regards putting down the forces arrayed in hate against him and his constitution—usurping appointees in the government? Or will congress counsel moderation, a plea for international interposition in gaining peace, Huerta's self-abnegation, abdication and other unlikely behavior that would be real patriotism? Much depends on the "tone" of the message. It is Mexico, there is real war in the land and the season is one of excitement. Independence Day celebration is toward. If the Mexican congress is solicitous for national independence in fact, it will have advice to give Huerta that will be unsavory to Huerta.

Waller S. Baker.
 (Hugh Nugent: Fitzgerald in the Fort Worth Record.)

Waller S. Baker, who passed away the other day, the city of San Francisco, was a profound lawyer and a public spirited citizen. He was one of the Old Guard of the Texas Democracy and a notable figure in the ever memorable Hogg campaign. He never cared for office. He was a fighter for principle and law in his friendships. He has not been in active political life for a number of years, but this did not keep him from taking a quiet part in political affairs which concerned his city and his state. The writer first met him in the Hogg campaign when the Democratic party was almost torn apart by factional strife. He had rare executive ability and was a superb organizer of men. He demonstrated this as chairman of the state committee. In those campaigns he never lost his head, he never lost faith in the people and in the darkest hour he was ever confident of success. Waco lost a splendid citizen and Texas a noble son when death called away Waller S. Baker.

TEXAS VIEWPOINTS.

Claude Callan is a City Contemp.

There was an extra slice in the last "Sunday Sandwich" prepared by Fort Worth Star-Telegram's beaming Blackman. It was a substantial slice, sweet, salutary, delectable. It was trimmed thus: "Claude Callan, of Menard, Palsy Co., Tex., has moved his wif, son & suitcase to Panther-town, having accepted a situation writing up a daily column of brilliancies for the STAR-TELEGRAM, & other idiotic paper. Janitor wk., starting in tomorrow's issue of that sheet. On each Sabbath hereafter his jocund jeremiads will fill a vacuum 18 ems horizontal, 2 cols. west of these words. Welcome to our city, Claude, & pay up your Poll Tax." Hindifferent Hap may be pardoned even "jocund jeremiads" in the joy ungiven by this warning, announcement and artful adv. No longer to wait a week for the weekly, but strong Thursday Hermes (the which is Messenger, Hep) of Menard! Corporal Callan, sometime colonel but by reason of his moving from Menard to travel to Tarrant reduced to the cranks, is but 90 ms. us-from! (Forgive us our 's). To have Callan's quips—not, we hope, the extremity of Callan's one pair of cloth—in the mouth of a S-T "bulldog" when we arrive each mauve morn' on our impressive isolation on the second floor, is happiness warranting continuance of existence. The corporal will produce ticklers and phlosophy philosophy enow if he types each day but a tithe of his Menard masterpieces. Claude, cut loose! Gaudinoze Fort Worth needs you! If you put a s. of h. into that village personally or paraphratically you will be rendering Texas a service that not even Paul could Gage.

Shades of Sherman—Act!

"The ministers of Carlisle, Pa., are trying to make a compact whereby all will agree not to perform the marriage ceremony 'in a case where either one of the contracting parties has been divorced.'" Galveston News riddles—and at once get serious: "The poor indulge in divorce with comparative rarity, and the rich can travel to other States or even other countries, so that this agreement would not have much other effect than that of inflicting a social discrimination. Neither is it Solonic wisdom altogether to make no distinction as between the innocent and guilty party to a divorce case." And the rest of the News's bit on this theme is fully as sensible. We know in certain denominations divorce and the marriage of the divorced are well nigh taboo. The News mentions the poor, as to this aggravating agreement proposed. Like the poor, we have always with us, alas! the divorced. Apart from its injustice, we would suggest that an interdenominational community ministerial agreement to limit the marriage function among their duties and perquisites does several improper things: It violates the Sherman anti-trust act in point of its prohibition of agreement, combinations and conspiracies in restraint of trade—though, paradoxically and detrimentally destroying trust; the trust of the non-divorced party to the marital contract; it violates the principle of the old common law, public policy and statutory inhibition of contracts interfering with marriages; and, finally, it proves that some of the ministers of that town have forgotten the Biblical adjuration, "Judge not!" It would seem the ministers of Carlisle, despite their residence close to the government's school for descendants of the race from which we purloined the law, may not be classed as "good Indians."

Mr. McGhee's "Ad." Address.

(West News.)
 George R. McGhee, cashier of the First National bank of Waco, in addressing the ad club of that city recently hit the keynote of success when he said that "the banker of today could not sit in his office and depend on his prominence to bring him business but that he must get out and mix with his customers." Ed Rotan is president of the First National and is the pioneer banker of Central Texas. He saw service in the counting rooms in the ox cart days almost a half century ago, when the products of the farm in Central Texas were carted to the Bayou City and the return wagon brought in the supplies for the early settlers in this section of the State in those days, and as the State grew and prospered so did the First National bank, hence Ed Rotan is still the foremost banker in Central Texas. He knew how to do a banking business a half century ago and he knew how to change his methods in order to keep ahead of the times. George R. McGhee is a young man, comparatively so, to be cashier of such a great banking institution, but he has proven himself to be the right man in the right place. Ed Rotan knows this and that's why he put McGhee where he is today, cashier of the strongest bank in Central Texas.

(McAllen Monitor.)

All for Honesty.
 The Waco Morning News reproduces an article from the Dallas Times-Herald anent the recent municipal light plant election in the latter city, and says: "It is not very clear just what the Times-Herald is talking about but even from the shadow of our ignorance we vote in favor of being honest." Oh, yes! We all "vote in favor of being honest," and no doubt honesty is the best policy, if all practiced it, but in this day and time a fellow has to get up and hustle to meet his pay roll on the day specified.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it does so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

MUSICAL TEXT BOOK

PROGRESSIVE PIANO STUDIES IS COMPREHENSIVE WORK BY TEXAS MEN.

Texas Capital Interested in Its Publication and Famous Musicians Contribute.

"The Progressive Piano Studies" is a musical textbook that has been issued by the Art Publication society, formed by the late Dr. W. S. H. Mathews, assisted by Frederick Lillibridge, both residents of Dallas. The work represents years of labor on the part of the editors and an investment of more than $250,000, largely contributed by Texas capital. Of this publication the Dallas News says:

"Realizing the need of textbooks for music pupils to study at home as they study their literary work, teachers all over the world have for years been making an effort to furnish manuscript lessons to their pupils. Of all these lessons the 'Graded Course,' by Dr. Mathews, was the most popular, the circulation reaching more than one million copies. It was from this graded course that Dr. Mathews and Mr. Lillibridge took their plan for the 'Progressive Piano Studies.'"

Famous Men Contributed.
 "In order that the work, when completed, might be authoritative and comprehensive in its scope, more than twenty of the leading musicians of this country and Europe were asked to contribute to its pages. In fact, at the death of Dr. Mathews, April, 1912, Leopold Godowsky, head of the piano department of the master school in Vienna, the highest pedagogical position in the music world, and heralded as one of the great pianists of all time, was selected as editor in chief and is responsible for the work. Assisting him as editors and contributors are such musical authorities, composers and artists as Bauer and Scharwenka, Germany; Moskowski, France; Cui, Russia; Scott, England; Roentgen, Holland; Chimeri, Italy; Anshary, Hungary; Radeglia, Turkey; Nevers, Austria; and in America, Sarr, Cincinnati; Kroeger, St. Louis; Cole, Chicago; Cowles, New Haven; Ferrata, New Orleans; Armstrong, Alton and others.

"Leading musicians, teachers and critics who have examined the work pronounce it, for comprehensive explanation, systematic progress, thoroughness, elimination of unnecessary detail and value of practical material something unique. Being the only edition of consecutively graded text lessons, exercises and studies ever published, it is predicted that its advent will mark a new epoch in music teaching."

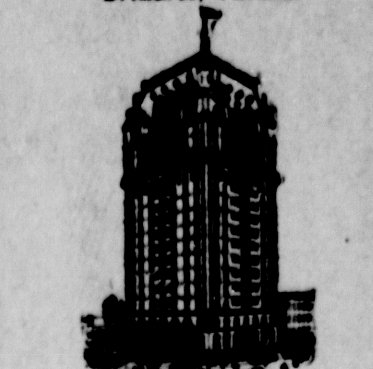

"While the home offices of the company are located in Dallas, the publishing plant is in St. Louis; this on account of that city's being nearer the geographical center of America. The society also has branch offices in London, Berlin and Vienna."

"John C. Freuden, editor of Musical America, gives, through its columns, the amazing statistics, compiled by himself, with the aid of the director of census at Washington, that America is spending annually over $235,000,000 for musical instruction and sheet music alone, and the enormous amount of over $600,000 per annum for music in its forms."

Texas Capital Interested.
 "The importance of these figures and their evidence of the great interest being taken in music by Americans will be realized by comparison. They mean that we spend three times as much on music as we do on the army and navy, or as much as we do on the postal service; that we spend on music within 30 per cent of the value of the hay crop, which is the biggest crop in the country, or within 15 per cent of the cotton crop, which is the next largest, and four-times as much as the total value of the country's agricultural implements. The field of usefulness is therefore extremely large for a work of this kind."

"Among Texas citizens interested in the enterprise are C. C. Slaughter, D. E. Waggoner, J. W. Wright, E. W. Rose, R. P. Wofford, G. G. Wright, F. F. Webster, H. L. Edwards, R. W. King, Jr., E. H. Ray, A. H. Wilkins, W. M. Robinson, Ranger Bros. E. G. Patton, C. E. Sands, G. H. Irish, T. L. Camp, R. S. Waldron, J. P. Blake and Ed S. Wesson, the last two being respectively, president and secretary of the company."

WACO SOCIALISTS PLAN BIG DAY

WOULD BRING SOME NOTED OR-ATOR TO THE COTTON
PALACE.

DIRECTORS HEAR PETITIONS

Good Roads Men Want to Combine Their Celebration With That of Autoists

The directors of the Cotton Palace transacted much important business at their session last night in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. F. D.
Phillips, representing the Socialists of Waco, addressed the directors on the matter of procuring a speaker for their day. Mr. Phillips outlined a plan for securing some noted Socialist speaker, which the directors will take under advisement, the idea of the local people being to charge an admission to the lecture in order to defray the speaker's expenses and fee.

Soldier Boys Ready.
Capt. P. A. Weathered, representing the local company of the National Guard, appeared before the meeting together with Lieutenant Fiske Wright and the services of the company were tendered at any time needed for parade purposes. The details of this feature will be worked out later. However, the company will be used during the opening exercises and on Waco day.

Victor Bunata spoke to the directors in regard to Bohemian day, and after discussion of the matter, Thursday, November 6, was selected. Mr.
Bunata, in the course of his remarks stated, "The Bohemian day this year will far eclipse all former days, as we expect to have the Sokols put on a public exhibition. We further expect to have the 'Beseda' danced in national costumes in a very elaborate way; also the old Bohemian quadrille in national costume, a state meeting of the Texas Sokols, with most interesting gymnastic exhibitions."

Auto Men Report.
At this time the auto and accessories men announced that they were ready to report. Horace H. Flynn, in behalf of the dealers, stated that it had been decided to have the grandest automobile parade ever pulled off in the South, and a committee of five had been named to take charge of the details of the parade and the matter of suitable prizes, said committee being as follows: J. P. McGrath, Percy Willis, R. H. Crawford, J. C. Killgore and C. T. Shook.

R. H. Crawford was named as general chairman by the auto and accessories men, and H. H. Flynn secretary. They asked that the directors of the Cotton Palace arrange it, if possible, so that the autos could move promptly and without any stops. By so doing everyone would be willing to enter the parade without fear. Prizes will be named for the best decorated autos from various counties, the most people coming in autos from the various counties, and similar stunts. Wednesday, November 12, was assigned as Auto and also as Good Roads day.

Present last night were President W.
H. Hoffman, H. S. Forman, W. W.
Orver, E. P. Drake, Asher Sanger,
W. T. Herrick, T. P. Duncan, W. T.
Abernathy, C. H. Cox, L. Mikel, Secretary, Seth N. Mayfield and Publicity Director M. R. Davis.

Dr. H. B. Stiles, chairman of the Good Roads day committee, was first heard. He asked for a day in conjunction with the automobiles, stating that no doubt a tremendous auto parade would be pulled off and each feature would blend.

"McLennan county has made a decided advance in the matter of good roads," he said, "and the outlook is very bright for the connecting link being built in this county on the Red-to-the-Gulf and other highways that have been projected. We want to have a complete exhibit of the various forms of good roads and the material used in the construction of permanent highways, road making machinery, traction engines, rollers, scrapers, etc."

B. C. Nettles, speaking in behalf of the auto dealers and supply men, stated that these would be glad to unite in supporting anything for the interests of the Cotton Palace and the good roads movement. He said during the course of his remarks that a large proportion of the automobile sales during the past year had been made among farmers.

J. C. Killgore and Percy Willis also spoke on the matter of an auto day and good roads day.

The auto and accessories men then retired to discuss the question of putting on an elaborate automobile parade and the award of prizes.

From now on their meetings will be held every Monday night, as matters in connection with the big exposition are accumulating so fast that weekly meetings will be necessary to dispatch affairs.

Cotton Palace Notes.
Geo. H. Hubert, a well known traveling man, called at the office of President W. H. Hoffman and congratulated the directors upon securing Elery's band for this fall's exhibition. He stated to Mr. Hoffman that Messrs.
Thomas Wallace, tuber and Rayne Young, baritone, were undoubtedly among the finest in the world.

Contributions are coming in for the Cotton Palace zoo and aquarium. Secretary Mayfield states that this will be one of the most attractive new features of the 1913 show.

HOW M. HALL SAVED MONEY

Fearing Arrest by County Police,
He Besought City Cops to Nab Him.

When the championship belt for political economy is awarded the odd entry on the police blotter by Assistant Chief of Police Robert Buchanan will show that Mal Hall, driver of a beer wagon, has a strong claim to it.

Hall went out for a stroll yesterday and ran foul of a stranger with argumentative predilections. The two engaged in a friendly conversation for a time, but it suddenly took a disagreeable turn and terminated in a spirited fist fight. Whether Hall or the stranger got the worst end of the battle has not yet been made clear.
When the hostilities were over, however, the beer driver began to realize that he and his antagonist probably would be arrested and haled to court if any of the eyewitnesses reported the affair to the city or county officers. He realized, too, that he stood just as good a chance of being nabbed by a county officer as being taken into custody by a city cop. Furthermore, he figured that the penalty usually imposed by Judge Wren in the recorder's court for fighting is lighter than that which falls to the lot of belligerents who are picked up by the county authorities.

Thus meditating, he sought counsel with his friend John Hume. At his request Hume called up the city police station over the telephone. Assistant Chief Buchanan answered the call.
"This is John Hume," came over the wire to the assistant chief of police.
"I want you to send an officer for my friend Mal Hall. Mal has just had a fight and he wants to be arrested by some of your men before the county officers find him."

"No Mal wants to be arrested does he?" queried Buchanan. "Well, I guess we can accommodate him. Who was the other fellow in the fight? We will want him, too, you know. Mal can't monopolize this fight. He is only entitled to his half of it."

"That's more than we can tell you," responded Mr. Hume. "The fellow was a stranger to Mal and he has gone, but Mal is the man we are interested in just now. Get Mal before the county cops get him and we will be satisfied.
He prefers to take his chances with the recorder."

"Anything to be ascertained," said the assistant chief. And he detailed an officer to bring in the willing prisoner.

World's Greatest Golfers Now Ready for Brookline

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 15.—After being the scene of two weeks of hard practice, culminating in almost continuous play today, the picturesque golf course of the Country Club was swept and dusted and its eighteen holes replaced for the twenty-fourth open golf championship of the United States, which starts tomorrow.

The entry list of 149 players is the largest in the history of this event. Among the starters will be players from England, France, Mexico and Canada, as well as home and foreign bred players from this country. John J. McDermott of Atlantic City, an Irishman by birth, but a product of the American caddy school of golf, will defend his title, won for the second time at Buffalo last year.

There is scarcely a professional golfer of any prominence in this country not included in the list, while the amateur ranks will be represented by an unusually strong array, topped by the champion, Jerome D. Travers.

Interest in tomorrow's play, which is the first of two preliminary rounds of thirty-six holes each, will center in the work of Harry Vardon of England and Louis Teller of France. The former carried off the American open title thirteen years ago to add to his list of British championships, while the latter has won many open events in France.

Edward Ray and Wilfred Reid, the English champions of Vardon, in a quest of the American title, will play their preliminary rounds Wednesday. Today's practice developed some spectacular golfing in which nearly all the cracks participated.

Reid played eight of the last nine holes of the course in 28. Ray was hole high on the 520-yard ninth hole in a drive and in a iron; H. M. Burns of Tacoma on the same hole lined out 295 yards on his drive, was on the green in his second and made a four out of a bogey six holes.

There was considerable regret in the afternoon when it was learned that Charles Evans Jr. of Chicago, the gold medalist in the amateur championship two weeks ago, had scratched his entry for the opening.

Just before sunset a small army of employes marched onto the course and within an hour every hole had been relocated on the hardest possible spot.

CHANGE MADE IN DRAFTING RULES

Cincinnati, Sept. 15.—One hundred and eight major league players were elevated to the major leagues via the draft route here today when the American league obtained sixty-seven players by draft, while the National league annexed forty-one minors at the drawing, which was made before the National Baseball Commission.

The St. Louis American league club was far the luckiest in the draw, obtaining thirty players, more than one-fourth of the total number obtained by all major league clubs; the Cincinnati club was second, with eleven; the Chicago Americans came next with ten, Detroit with nine, the Philadelphia Americans and the Boston Nationals had eight each; Brooklyn obtained seven, Boston Americans five, New York Nationals five, Chicago Nationals four, Philadelphia Nationals three, Cleveland and Pittsburgh and the New York Americans got two each, while Washington the St. Louis Nationals obtained one each.

The drawing of the major league teams for class AA and class A players resulted as follows:

St. Louis Americans eight, Detroit and Boston Nationals six each; Brooklyn and Chicago Nationals three each; Chicago Americans and Cleveland two each, New York Americans, Washington, Philadelphia and Cincinnati one each.

Owing to a new National Commission rule stipulating that the major league club drawing for players from a minor league club must be selected by lot before the player is the names of the players to be obtained by the major league from the class AA and class A were not announced immediately and will not be officially announced until tomorrow. However, a number of the players to be chosen were given out unofficially today.

Little business other than that of the drafting was taken up by the National Commission during the day, but a resolution by President Ebbetts of the Brooklyn club of the National league was submitted. It aims to revise the drafting rules so as to give those teams which are lowest in the league the chance to obtain first call on the players that were drafted and to briefly it is as follows:

"There shall be sixteen draft selections numbered from one to sixteen which shall be awarded to the sixteen major league clubs.

"The American and National leagues shall determine by lot which league shall have the odd numbered selections and which the even numbered.

"The league securing the odd numbers shall award selection one to the eighth place club, No. 2 to the seventh place club and so on up to the leading club, which shall receive selection fifteen. The league securing the even numbers shall award selection 2 to their eighth place club, No. 4 to the seventh place club and so on up to the leading club of their league, which shall receive selection sixteen.

"The sixteen major league clubs, represented by officials of their respective clubs at the drafting meeting, shall, as their numbers are announced in numerical number, have the right to make a free selection of one player from any minor league club subject to draft; the restrictions relative to the number of players subject to selection from a National Association club to remain in force precisely as now provided for in the national agreement.

"By this system it is believed the following reforms will be accomplished:

"The great element of uncertainty as to the players to be secured will be removed.

"The elimination of filing lists of thirty or forty players.

"Minimize the possibility of a club being 'lucky' in securing several players not up to the standard.

"The elimination of the technical evasion of the drafting laws as now in force.

PONDER GOES TO DARTMOUTH.

Baylor Football Wander Reaches the Big College.

"Billy" Ponder, last year's football wanderer at Baylor, arrived at Dartmouth yesterday, where he will attend school this year, and try out for the football team. Ponder went to Dartmouth through the influence of Ralph Glaze, the former All-American Dartmouth halfback. He had been considering Oklahoma University or Vanderbilt, but Glaze was instrumental in getting him a position where he could work his way through the northern college, and Ponder accepted it. Glaze said yesterday that Ponder ought to have a great future before him. He is one of the fastest men in the south, and beat the celebrated sprinter Hoover from the University of Texas. Glaze thinks that Ponder ought to make an other Thorpe.

Mayes Pardoned Negro Hero While Acting Governor

Temple, Tex., Sept. 15.—One of the acts performed by Lieutenant Governor Will H. Mayes during the absence of Gov. Colquitt from the state was the granting of a pardon to A. D. Jackson, a negro convict. The latter was confined in the Bell county jail a year and a half ago on a minor charge. During his incarceration prisoners planned a jail delivery in which Jackson refused to join and when the time came saved the lives of Deputy Sheriff McCormick by frustrating a murderous assault upon the officer. The publicity given the man resulted in his being arrested and convicted on an old charge pending against him in another county, and despite the efforts of his friends to obtain a pardon he had served over a year in the penitentiary before Lieutenant Governor Mayes looked with favor upon his case. The negro visited Belton a few days ago and was the recipient of warm congratulations from numerous white friends.

WACO COTTON MARKET

ABOUT TWO HUNDRED BALES ARE MARKETING IN THIS CITY.

Price is Around Thirteen Cents—Two Large Lots Are Brought In. Top Crop Opinions.

In spite of the bad weather, about two hundred bales of cotton were sold in the local market yesterday. The price was in the neighborhood of 13c.

Half of yesterday's receipts were due to two large lots, one of forty-seven bales, the other of fifty-two, brought in by J. F. Ragsdale and J. T. Harrison. Mr. Ragsdale's cotton was raised on the Cameron-Bolton farm, near the mouth of the Bosque, Mr. Harrison's farm is on the Marlin road, about four miles out.

In regard to the crop outlook, Mr. Harrison said that there was little hope for a top crop, in spite of the rain. Except in the hollows, where it stayed comparatively damp, the stalks had become dry, and the rain now would not make them put out again.

Others, however, who were in the city yesterday, are of the opinion that the plants will put out, and if frost holds off six weeks, will make as much or more cotton than the crop now being gathered. There is much land that was replanted, and all of this is expected to do well now.

The unseasonable weather has been keeping the local receipts low, and it was only the two large lots that yesterday that brought the day's record to the 200 mark.

Those who marketed their cotton here were:

E. L. Pein & Brewer & McNamara, J. B. Lawson & Co., O. Thomas & M. R. Box, C. D. Needham & J. W. Leonox & Joe Hawkins, L. R. B. Oram, C. W. Best & T. A. Best & S. P. Johnson & W. C. Robert & S. E. Boffin, S. Charley Young & B. F. Peyton, L. L. McGregor, L. G. W. Blanton & J. L. Blanton.

Dry Goods Market. New York, Sept. 15.—Cotton goods markets opened strong with bids for gray goods general. Southern staple gingham have been advanced 1-4c a yard. Percale is selling freely. Staple goods opened with reductions for spring of from 10 to 17 cent. Canton raw silk is advancing.

OFF TO CONVENTION.

FOR FIRE SUFFERERS. Mayor Mackey Forwards $250 to the General Fund Committee. Mayor James H. Mackey, chairman of the local fund for the Hot Springs fire sufferers, has forwarded to the committee in charge of the general relief the amount contributed by the citizens of Waco. The total of the contributions is $278. All of the subscribers to the fund have not yet paid in the amounts they set down for their names for, so the mayor forwarded the cash in hand, a total of $252. The sum of $26 is yet to be collected and forwarded.

Improved rapidly and steadily, and advice received here indicate that the need for money to relieve the sufferers is not now so urgent. In view of these reports, the mayor said he would make no further effort to collect funds, but he will be glad to receive and forward any additional contributions that may be tendered.

Markets By Telegraph

Cotton.

New York, Sept. 15.—After a sharp early advance on reports of damaging rains and winds in the south, the cotton market today turned easier under realizing and southern selling. Prices moved to practically the closing figures of last week in the late trading, with the close steady, but at practically the lowest point of the day or net 2 points higher to 2 points lower.

There was an active demand at the opening and first prices were 6 to 15 points higher. Liverpool was an active seller here, probably on the differences as the English market was no better than due on the New York close of Saturday and there was also considerable selling by spot houses, as well as scattered realizing.

Officers were fairly well absorbed during the early trading and active months sold 15 to 16 points net higher late in the morning on the continued covering and bull support. Around 13.17c for December, or about $2.50 per bale above the low level of last Friday, and some interest in the market later was decidedly easier under heavy realizing and southern selling, which was supposed to be partly in the way of hedging.

There were many private reports of damage from stormy weather in some sections of the cotton belt, as well as in the southwest and predictions that the additional moisture would add to the ultimate crop were generally made contingent on clear, warm conditions with a late winter. The low temperatures shown in parts of Texas may, consequently, have helped the advance, but while there was some trade buying early, support from that source was not much in evidence later in the day, and there were reports of a continued slack demand from spinners.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, Sept. 15.—After opening well and strong, the cotton market here was fairly steady, but because of crop damage reports, due to heavy rains over a large part of the belt, the cotton market reacted 6 to 8 points up on profit taking and after that moved within a narrow range until the close, which was 1 to 3 points above the opening. The market was heavy and the heavy rains had beaten cotton out of the bolls and had injured the grade, made opening prices 11 to 13 points up and soon after the call the advance had amounted to 14 to 15 points.

Profit taking by longs became heavy and soon the market had reacted to 6 to 8 points up. All during the morning the market was steady, but quiet, and each small downward swing was met by strength that carried prices upward again. In the afternoon prices moved on reports of a possible weather over a large part of the belt and the close was at about the lowest point of the day, 1 to 3 points down.
